

CALIFORNIA INVASIVE PLANT COUNCIL AND
EAST BAY REGIONAL PARK DISTRICT PRESENT:

Working with Volunteers: Invasive Plant Management

Saturday, April 7, 2018
9am—3pm

Robert Trudeau Center
11500 Skyline Blvd.
Oakland, CA

Visit cal-ipc.org/wvn to register or for more information

Did you know that invasive plants are one of the greatest threats to diversity in our natural areas? Would you like to learn more about how to be better stewards of natural areas through control of invasive plants?

Join local experts for this free training workshop!

Participants will learn the basics of weed management, hear about diverse restoration efforts, and meet fellow stewards of our natural areas.

Workshop topics include:

- The biology and ecology of invasive plants
- Invasive plant management tools and best practices
- A discussion of the various on-line resources available to assist you with your project, including Calflora
- Break-out sessions focusing on tool types, group management techniques, and using a restoration framework for weed management
- Using Calflora's Observer Pro app to document and map native and invasive plants

Save the date for our November 3rd workshop presenting advanced topics in Invasive Plant Management!

